

Harold N. McDonald

Harold N. McDonald died on October 13, 1993, in Salt Lake City.

Harold "Mac" was born March 13, 1914, in Springville, Utah. He was the oldest son of John W. and Edna Nelson McDonald. He married Maurine Sherwood on June 29, 1940.

Mac graduated from West High School and attended the University of Utah. He received a diploma in technical and practical electricity from the National Electric School in Los Angeles.

During World War II, Mac served with the Signal Corps in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater. After the war he worked as an insurance agent with Aetna Life, where he specialized in estate planning, and as the Life Division Manager with Continental Agency.

At the time of his retirement in June 1975, Mac had worked over 25 years as a structural engineer with the Utah State Department of Highways. He was especially proud of his work on the Cart Creek Highway Bridge near Farmington, Gorge.

Mac was past-president of the Salt Lake chapter of the International Gyro Club.

Mac is survived by his wife, Maurine; nephews, Kent, John and David McDonald; nieces, Marilyn, Robertson, Deanna Morgan and Janice Sherwood; several grand-nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday, October 18, 12 noon, at Larkin Sunset Lawn, 2350 East 1300 South, where friends may call Tuesday, 6-8 p. m. and Wednesday, one hour prior to services. Interment, Wasatch Lawn Memorial Park, N 10/16 T 10/16
